THAT OLD FLOOR you are so ashamed of—our demonstrator, who will be at Planters' Hardware Company (Incorporated) next Monday and Tuesday will show you in a minute how to make it look like a new hardwood floor, and wear like one—hide all the blemishes and make it as light in color as you wish. It will cost you nothing to learn, and you'll be under no obligations to buy.

FORTY BOYS GET SEED CORN

And Are Ready To Complete In The Corn Contest.

About 40 boys were on hand Tuesday to hear the lectures on Corn Culture by W. H. Strange and J. B. Walker. Much interesting information was given to the young tillers of the soil who are about to engage in a contest for prizes aggregating nearly $200.

Mr. Walker's lecture was illustrated by a chart designed by himself, that he has used in his lectures for the Agricultural Bureau.

A quantity of Boone county white seed corn was distributed. It was furnished free by Commissioner Rankin. The members of the club will compete for cash prizes offered by Hopkinsville business men at the request of Miss Jennie West, superintendent of county schools, who headed the movement here.

A number of other farmer boys will join the club and an additional barrel of seed corn has been contributed by Mr. J. E. Moseley. The girls of the county will organize under similar auspices a chrysanthemum growing club May 21. The cash prizes already raised to reward the boys and girls aggregate $320.

Some changes have been made in the Executive committee by reason of resignations. It now stands: Miss Jennie West, Chairman; John C. Duffy, J. E. Moseley and J. B. Walker for Corn and W. F. Snyder, Dr. F. M. Stites and Miss Cora Pringle, for Chrysanthemums.

DOHERTY BOOMERS

Will Go to Bowling Green In Force.

A big delegation of Hopkinsville members will go to Bowling Green next Friday and Saturday to push W. C. Doherty for President of the T. P. A. Mr. Doherty at present has no opposition for the honor.

FEARFUL OF CONFESSION

Attorneys for McNamara Call McManigal a Second Harry Orchard.

CLAIMS TO BE INNOCENT

Allege That McManigal Stated That He Had Made No Confession.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 28.—Attorney Hilton, chief counsel for the McNamara brothers, charged with dynamiting the Los Angeles Times building, declared yesterday that the defense has to deal with a second "Harry Orchard problem." He stated that any alleged confession of Ortie McManigal would be attacked. He interviewed McManigal yesterday and said the prisoner had denied making a confession. J. J. McNamara has issued a statement protesting his innocence.

LANDED ALL RIGHT.

Dynamiters Safe in Jail at Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 28.—John J. McNamara, secretary of the International Bridge and Structural Ironworkers' Association; his brother James B. McNamara; and Ortie E. McManigal, the alleged dynamite conspirators accused of blowing up the Times newspaper plant last October, killing twenty-one men, are in the Los Angeles jail, in separate cells, surrounded by extra guards. All three are charged with murder. Their arrival Wednesday, after a sensational journey in irons from Indianapolis and Chicago, signalizes the beginning of what is expected to be a desperate legal struggle.

The first book ever printed from movable type at a sale in New York brought the highest price ever paid for any book. The priz was the Guttenburg Bible, the purchaser, Henry E. Huntington, of Los Angeles, and the price $50,000. The purchase was made at the opening session at the sale of the library of the late Robert Hoe, the largest public auction sale of books ever attempted.

Miss Nancy Ray was married the other day in Edmonson county. If she is the same Nancy who refused to play because her bird died when some of us were schoolboys, she is no spring chicken. Who of us has not shed tears over that touching poem:

My bird is dead, said Nancy Ray,
My bird is dead, I cannot play,
Go put his cage far, far away,
I cannot bear the sight to day.

Dr. Daniel K. Parsons, the aged multimillionaire, Hinsdale, Ill., is running a race with Andrew Carnegie to see if he can give away more money than the Scotch steel-maker. At present Carnegie is ahead by several millions. Dr. Pear-sons recently celebrated his ninety-first birthday by giving away $800, 000 for educational purposes. His total gifts, mostly to small colleges, amount to over $6,000,000. Dr. Pear-sons says he has enough money left to live on.

Boy And Goat Cultivate Corn Field.

Lack of modern agricultural equipment were no odds to a 15-year-old boy of Rogers, Ark., according to an illustrated article appearing in the May number of Popular Mechanics. With the help of his billy goat, the boy hauled manure fertilizer to the field in a small packing-box cart, and then plowed the flint-rock-strewn ground with a little iron plow drawn by the goat.

The yield of 50 bushels of corn from this acre of rocky ground is one of the finest instances the Agricultural Department has to demonstrate the possibilities of shallow cultivation after careful preparation.

The May American Magazine

The May American Magazine contains the first of a new series of baseball articles by Hugh S. Fullerton. The first article is on base stealing. Ida M. Tarbell contributes an important and interesting discussion of "The Stand-Pat Intellect." The department called "Interesting People" contains sketches of Peter Newell, Sam Loyd, James Gordon
Bennett, A. Lincoln Fellows and Mrs. Kraus-Boete. Ray Stannard Baker writes on "The Meaning of Insurgency." Inez Haynes Gillmore tells another Phoebe story. Albert Jay Nock contributes a new tax article. Frederick W. Taylor, the inventor of Scientific Management, writes of his invention. There are stories by William J. Locke, Kathleen Norris, Frances Hodgson Burnett,
Edith Ronald Mirrlees and Edgar
C. MacMechen. "The Interpreter's House," "The Pilgrim's Scrip" and
"The Theater"—all departments—contain much good reading.

Every Month Near Death.

Eoster, Ark.—Mrs. Fannie Ellis, of Foster, says: "I was sick for seven years, and half the time could not stand on my feet. Every month
I was very near death. I tried Carddul, and in two months, I was cured, and am now stout and healthy. My friends all ask me now what cured me. My looks are a testimonial to Cardul." No matter how serious or long-standing the trouble, Cardul will help you. It is a mild, vegetable, tonic remedy, especially adapted to relieve and cure the common womanly ailments. It relieves womanly pains and restores womanly strength.
Try Cardul.

Saw a Meteor.

Centreville, Tenn., April 24.—The most remarkable astronomical phenomenon ever witnessed at Centreville occurred last night at 8:40 o'clock. The churches had just dismissed when the people returning home were startled by an exceedingly bright light in the Southern sky.
All eyes were turned at once to see the cause and discovered something resembling a ball of fire with the brightness of a Tungsens burner shoot across the heavens. It took an easterly course, falling at an angle of about thirty degrees. The object appeared to the eye to be as large as a man's head at first and gradually diminished, leaving a tail a hundred yards long. The town was lighted almost as light as day for fully thirty seconds. The phenomenon was witnessed by scores of people.

MAKING GOOD

There is no way of making lasting friends like "Making Good"; and Dr. Pierce's medicines well exemplify this, and their friends, after more than two decades of popularity are numbered by the hundreds of thousands. They have "made good" and they have not made drunkards. A good, honest square-deal medicine of known composition is

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It still enjoys an immense sale, while most of the preparations that have come into prominence in the earlier period of its popularity have "gone by the board" and are never more heard of. There must be some reason for this long-time popularity and that is to be found in its superior merits. When once given a fair trial for weak stomach, or for liver and blood affections, its superior curative qualities are soon manifest; hence it has survived and grown in popular favor, while scores of less meritorious articles have suddenly flashed into favor for a brief period and then been as soon forgotten.

For a torpid liver with its attendant Indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, perhaps dizziness, foul breath, nasty coated tongue, with bitter taste, loss of appetite, with distress after eating, nervousness and debility, nothing is as good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It's an honest, square-deal medicine with all its ingredients printed on bottle-wrapper—no secret, no hocus-pocus humbug, therefore don't accept a substitute that the dealer may make a little bigger profit. Insist on your right to have what you call for. Don't buy

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Expecting it to prove a "cure-all." It is only advised for woman's special ailments.

It makes weak women strong, sick women will. Less advertised than some preparations sold for like purposes, its stirring curative virtues still maintain its position in the front ranks, where it stood over two decades ago."

As an invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine it is unequalled. It won't satisfy those who want "booze," for there is not a drop of alcohol in it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the original Little Liver Pills, although the first pill of their kind in the market, still lead, and when once tried are ever afterwards in favor. Easy to take as candy.

HIS SOCIAL GUIDE

When Georgia came into the room she found Amy on the couch in an attitude of complete dejection.

"Good gracious! What's the matter?" asked the caller. "I thought you were receiving today. Why didn't the maid tell me you were ill?"

"I'm not ill, Georgia, and I heartily wish I wasn't," came Amy's despondent voice from the depths of the sofa pillows.

"Well, if you don't wish to see me, of course—"

"Oh, I'm always glad to see you."

Amy raised herself on her elbow and then sank back onto the couch with an exaggerated air of weakness. "I'm only wretched, that's all. I'm so completely covered with chagrin that I can't rise. With that she rose and said dramatically: "If some kind fate had taken me out today I would not have been home to make a complete idiot of myself."

"I suppose you know what you are talking about," remarked Georgia, "but you leave me in the dark."

"Wait till you hear the story and then you will cease to wonder at my present abject condition.

"About ten days ago," related Amy, "I received a letter from my cousin, Billy Speacer, telling me that a friend of his, a Mr. Gilmore, was in Chicago studying law, and he asked me to be nice to him. 'He's going along on his own account,' Billy wrote, 'for his father hasn't any sympathy with his legal ambitions. But he's sure to make good, for he's a fine, bright fellow, and his only fault is a little shyness. He needs hrlaging, out and you're the one to do it, Amy.'

"Of course, that flattered me, and I determined to become young Gilmore's social guide, philosopher and friend. I sent him a note telling him that I was at home Fridays, afternoon and evening. I asked him to call very soon, as I considered any close friend of Cousin Billy's a friend of mine."

"Surely, that was very nice," commented Georgia.

"Yes, I was trying to be nice to him," sighed Amy. "Well, he came this afternoon. When we had spoken of Cousin Billy and I had asked him how he liked Chicago there came a pause that I knew could only be filled with tea, so I told our maid, Helga, to bring some at once.

"Do you take cream and sugar?" I inquired.

"No, I prefer it straight," he said so jauntily that for a happy moment I congratulated myself that I had succeeded in putting him at his ease. He took one swallow from the cup I gave him and then to his horror and mine it crashed to the floor.

"While he choked and sputtered, I suddenly became conscious of a horrible burning sensation on my lips, to which I had just lifted my cup when the crash came.

"It's ginger" I cried.

"Yes," he answered, with tears in his eyes.

"At that moment Helga reappeared and announced calmly that she thought she had brought in the wrong tea.

"Then I knew I had given poor Mr. Gilmore some of my grandmother's hot ginger brew which she occasionally takes in small but concentrated doses for her cold."

"I don't know which was the more embarrassed, he or I, while Helga picked up the fragments of the cup and mopped the floor. I tried to explain laughingly how the ginger happened to be substituted for the tea, but evidently the humor of the situation did not strike him, for he said, very solemnly, 'I'm extremely sorry about the cup.'

"I was gayly assuring him that one cup more or less didn't in the least matter, when to my astonishment and despair, Helga rose from the floor and said: 'Miss Amy, you make big mistakes. Your mother have told me the cups cost very much. She say I must be very careful. I now tell her I have not break this cup. Then she sailed from the room with a righteous air.'

"What did you do?"

"I said with a weak effort at lightness, 'Isn't she a drivel?' and then I laughed. But there was no response to my merriment. My caller sat still and solemn and I could think of nothing in the world to say."

It is about time for that bunch of missionary Society. "It was my Macks in California to send for the wish as a young woman, to have a little girl of my own," said the gray-haired little woman, "but it was not meant that this wish should be gratified, for no man ever asked me to marry him."

There is but one question to settle in the trial of the Los Angeles anarchists—to be sure they have the right men. The rest should be easy.

Berger, the Socialist member of Congress, has introduced a resolution to abolish the Senate and take the veto power from the President, and he has been a Congressman only seven weeks.

Now watch out for the Appeal to Reason to take up the cause of the dynamite anarchists run to earth, at Los Angeles. And that's not all. Every night rider in the Black Patch will swear they are innocent.

Four children in less than one year have been born to Mrs. John T. Dowdy, living four miles northwest of Mayfield. On May 6, 1910, twin girls were born to her, and on Sunday, April 23, she presented her husband with twin boys, making four children in less than twelve months. Mrs. Dowdy is only forty years old, and is the mother of fourteen children.

Dr. Ben Bruner, Secretary of State, is still threatening to run for Governor on a platform containing 20 planks, covering pretty much everything from prohibiting an editor from lambasting a candidate to permitting a candidate to get his name under two devices on the same ballot. The Doctor gracefully sidesteps on woman suffrage, prohibiting and night riding.

Representative Korby continues to make a great miration because the social line at a naval academy ball was drawn against Miss Katherine Keers, a governess or nurse girl in an officer's family, who was herself of a good family. Young ladies so situated should have some one to vouch for their social status when they enter exclusive society and mistakes would be avoided. Mr. Korby seems to be trying to do for himself what nature has already done.

Highest Building.

New York, April 28.—Plans were filed by the Broadway-Park Place Company for the construction at Broadway and Park Place of the highest building in the world. From the curb to the apex of the tower it will stand 750 feet. There will be thirty stories in the main building and an additional twenty-five in the tower, fifty-five in all.

The highest building in the world now standing is the Metropolitan tower, 700 feet, three inches, and the second highest the Singer tower, 612 feet. The Eiffel tower, nearly 1,000 feet, a skeleton steel structure, is not reckoned a building.

Furs valued at from $15,000 to $20,000 were found in five trunks in Louisville following the arrest of a man and a woman giving the names of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Bradley. The trunks were found in the house occupied by the two. Aside from the belief that the furs are stolen property, the detectives are at a loss to account for them. Neither the man nor the woman would explain how the furs came into their possession. Detectives also assert they found skeleton keys in Bradley's pockets. Two of the five trunks bear tags of a Cincinnati storage house.

Giving advice is an easy way to borrow trouble.

HER LOST POEM

Abigail Baxter, then, was an old maid. She was thirty-six. She had had no romance in her life and as far as her closest friends knew she didn't want one. There were no weak spots in her character. She wrote poems and sent them away to publishers, but as they were always rejected, that didn't weaken her case.

One particular poem—composed on a rainy, dreary day, when all nature wept and sobbed and old maids could sit in the house with their hair down and be sure there would be no callers—was a poem on love. It wasn't such a poem as is usually written, telling of the joyousness of the sentiment and the delights of rambles with Cupid, but it was a satire—a damp, chilly, malarial satire. It was meant to reduce the market price of love by 50 per cent. It was meant to warn the young man of twenty and scare the old man of seventy. It took up the sentiment of love in sixteen verses and showed beyond cavil that there was a heap more money in raising squabs or running a boarding house. So far as Miss Abigail went that poem was a success. She enveloped, put in return postage and mailed it to a magazine.

Two weeks. No answer. Four weeks. No answer. Then Miss Abigail Baxter sat down as she had done on several previous occasions and berated the magazine man. If he hadn't read that poem and made up his mind to accept or reject by this time then he was no hustler. He had no right to keep people waiting. He needn't think he was a tin god because he was a magazine man.

The letter was a satire as well as the poem. The editor answered back that he had rejected the poem after reading the first verse on the day of its arrival and had at once remitted it. He could also write satire.

Miss Abigail Baxter was aroused. She was determined to have it back at any cost of blood and treasure. She wrote to that editor again as only a strong woman thirty-five years old can write. If he had remailed the poem it would have reached her.

If that poem, which hadn't one single fault, and the man who said it had was not a respecter of truth, was not in her hands at the end of two weeks suit for damages would be begun. She was no worm of the dust to be walked on, and so that editor would discover.

He replied that the suit would have to come, but warned her that she would surely be beaten. The red-headed office boy clearly remembered taking that rejected poem to the post office on a certain day and hour.

Miss Abigail's answer to this was brief. She simply took her pen in hand to say that she would at once put the case in the hands of a lawyer who could not be blinded nor bribed and instruct him to carry it clear to the Supreme court at Washington, if necessary. The worm had been patient. The worm had suffered. The worm had asked only for justice. Now the worm had turned, and if a certain man ended his days behind the cold iron bars the worm must be blamed—that is, the worm must.

Few poets in this world can bluff a magazine editor. They are engaged because they are good at bluffing other folks. Mr. Nicholson, the editor in this case, had turned down poems by the score and never got a knockout in return. In this case, however, he became alarmed. His curiosity was also aroused. He was an old bachelor of thirty-eight and something seemed to tell him that this was the crucial point in his life. He was served with a legal summons to appear in court and he put on his hat and went down to Roseland to see Miss Baxter. He expected asperity, acidity, aggression and lots of other things, but at the same time hoped against it.

As soon as Miss Baxter learned who her caller was she expected denials, assertions, protestations, defiance and other things belonging to the profession of magazine editing, but wished it might not be so. "I am sorry that this has come about," began the editor in pacific tones.

"And so am I." "I must beg your pardon for the way I wrote you."

"And I said more than I should." "Anger drove me to criticise your poem. I did it an injustice. The trouble with it was that it was too lengthy."

"I was afraid of that when I sent it."

"Miss Baxter, I believe you can write a poem on love that will make you world. I should be glad to publish it. Make it the most bold and blessed sentiment of the human heart."

"I will try."

"That law suit never came off, but a poem was written and published. Mr. Nicholson also frequently found his way down to Roseland. Poems and love were discussed. The lost poem didn't turn up, but it was never even mentioned."

Within a year Miss Abigail Baxter was Mrs. Nicholson and independent of all royalties.

Then He Got a Pound or Two. Mother—Mercy, child, what in the world has happened to you? Your clothes are cut full of small holes.

Willie—Oh, ma, we've been playin' grocery store, and I was the Swiss cheese.

Before Allowing an Operation

Please Read These Two Letters.

The following letter from Mrs. Orville Rock will prove how unwise it is for women to submit to the dangers of a surgical operation when it may be avoided by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She was four weeks in the hospital and came home suffering worse than before. Then after all that suffering Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored her health.

HERE IS HER OWN STATEMENT.

Paw Paw, Mich.—"Two years ago I suffered very severely with a displacement—I could not be on my feet for a long time. My physician treated me for several months without much relief, and at last sent me to Ann Arbor for an operation. I was there four weeks and came home suffering worse than before. My mother advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I did. To-day I am well and strong and do all my own housework. I owe my health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and advise every woman who is afflicted with any female complaint to try it."—Mrs. Orville Rock, R. R. No. 3, Paw Paw, Mich.

"There never was a worse case."

Rockport, Ind.—"There never was a worse case of woman's ills than mine, and I cannot begin to tell you what I suffered. For over two years I was not able to do anything. I was in bed for a month and the doctor said nothing but an operation would cure me. My father suggested Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; so to please him I took it, and I improved wonderfully, so I am able to travel, ride horseback, take long rides and never feel any ill effects from it. I can only ask other suffering women to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial before submitting to an operation."—Mrs. Margaret Meredith, R. F. D. No. 3, Rockport, Ind.

We will pay a handsome reward to any person who will prove to us that these letters are not genuine and truthful—or that either of these women were paid in any way for their testimonials, or that the letters are published without their permission, or that the original letter from each did not come to us entirely unsolicited.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

To Meet In Owensboro.

The annual meeting of the Kentucky State Dental Association, to be held in Owensboro, May 23-25, promises to be of more than usual interest to the dentists of this and neighboring states on account of the numerous new methods and appliances which will be exhibited there.

Dentistry, unlike many professions, cannot be learned altogether from books and magazines, and, consequently, it is almost obligatory for the progressive dentist to attend these meetings. Several dentists from Ohio, Indiana and Illinois will give clinics; in fact everything indicates that this will be the largest and best meeting ever held in Kentucky.

All ethical members of the profession are cordially invited to attend this meeting. Yours truly,

HARRY S. LEE,

Chairman Press Committee.

THIRTY SCHOOLS IN CHRISTIAN

State Secretary of Sunday School Association Completes Census.

The Rev. George A. Joplin, secretary of the Kentucky Sunday school Association, yesterday completed the compilation of the census of the white Sunday schools of Kentucky, a work that has been in progress since January 1. Such a census is made to the International Sunday school Association, the headquarters of which are in Chicago. The work is interdenominational, and, in this State, embraces the white Sunday schools of all Protestant churches.

The census shows that there are in Kentucky 3,745 Sunday schools, a gain of 259 as compared with 3,486 three years ago. The enrollment this year is 308,174, a gain of 47,164 as compared with 161,000, the enrollment in 1908.

Christian county is credited with 30 Sunday schools, having a total membership of 2,891.

In Boyle county, according to Secretary Joplin's figures, a larger percentage of children of school age attend Sunday school than in any other county in Kentucky.

In Favored List.

The State Board of Equalization has accepted the assessment of Christian county this year, without any changes. Only 40 counties were this fortunate.

GREATER NAVY FOR CHINA

Program for its Expansion includes the Building of Many Battleships, Cruisers and Gunboats.

The composition of the Chinese navy at present is as follows: One second-class cruiser, seven third-class cruisers, three torpedo gunboats, 37 gunboats, 20 torpedo boats; total, 68. The total displacement is 45,070 tons.

China has, however, now organized a navy department and intends to carry out a construction programme to be completed in seven years.

The programme includes the building of eight first-class battleships, over twenty cruisers and twenty gunboats, the organization of four naval ports at a total cost of 158,450,000 taels.

The new fleet will have a total displacement of 250,000 tons. One of the new naval ports will be constructed at Siangshan, Chekiang province. This is one of the many programmes of awakened China, for she has learned through bitter experience that without being backed by force she cannot hold her own against foreign pressure.—Oriental Review.

Importance of Cetacean of Western Ocean Now Recognized and Will Be Pursued.

A large whaling station is to be erected at Sanford Point on Grays harbor by the owners of the two stations now in operation on the west coast of Vancouver island. The common North Pacific whale has been leaving around the waters adjacent to Oregon, Washington and British Columbia since the days of Jonah, but it is only in recent years that his value has appealed to man.

Inasmuch as this species of whale attracted no attention when hundreds of Massachusetts whalers were chasing the sperm whales in the far north it is perhaps eminently proper that the industry as now carried on should be entirely devoid of the romance and excitement that attended the chase of sperm whales. The modern whaling steamer with bomb guns and other modern equipment goes out from a station, the whale is killed and the carcass is towed in and converted into oil with a total absence of any of the features that attended the killing and trying out process in the old days.—Portland Oregonian.

HIS OATH.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., at the recent reunion of the Bible class of which he is vice-president, said of a somewhat abusive magazine writer:

"He attacks his country's greatest men, but, when I read his attacks, I can't help thinking that he is rather like old Uncle Rastus.

"Uncle Rastus, testifying in a certain lawsuit, refused to be sworn.

"'Ah will affirm,' he said.

"'But, Uncle Rastus,' said the judge, 'how is this? Last week, in the Calhoun case, you swore readily enough.'

"'Yo honah,' said Uncle Rastus solemnly, 'Ah wag mo' surah o' mah facks dat case dan in dis one.'

CURIOS PRACTICE.

Robert Dulwich, who has traveled extensively in the lesser known regions of the Himalaya, gives an interesting account of a native sect known as the Tharyas, who have some curious practices. The sect are worshippers of the goddess Kali. They believe either in self-destruction or in the sacrifice of one of their fingers to appease the deity.

Thus it comes about that when the oldest member of a family is married the unhappy mother is expected to cut off the first two joints of the last two fingers of her hand. Princesses and other smart people in this remarkable sect are allowed to offer a substitute of finger joints, modeled in gold.—Eastern World.

DRIVE SPARROWS AWAY.

Sparrows that have made their home on the north side of the avenue between Ninth and Tenth streets have been deported. Their disturbance disturbed the audience in the moving picture theater and the authorities decreed that they must move. Accordingly rockets were set off beneath the trees the other day and those sparrows that were not killed or injured flew away.—Washington Herald.

HELD OVER

To Grand Jury on Charge of Manslaughter.

The examining trial of Jack Hatcher, the negro who is charged with shooting and killing Lawson Wiggins, another negro, on Mr. Richard Leavell's farm last Sunday, was held over before Judge Knight yesterday. Hatcher was held over to the grand jury on a charge of voluntary manslaughter. Bond was fixed at $1,000 and was furnished with Mr. Richard Leavell as surety.

Tobacco Market.

Sales this week show a decided decrease in pounds on the Loose Floors, as most of the crop has been delivered. Prices have been well maintained, though nothing fine was offered.

Sampling the prized tobacco has gone on steadily, and while some sales have been made, the prices were on private sales.

QUOTATIONS.

Common lugs $7.50 to $8.50, Good lugs $8.50 to $9, Common leaf $9 to $10.50, Medium leaf $11 to $12.50.

The plants are looking fairly well but no preparation for planting has yet been made by farmers.

Aims High.

Robert Jones, of Corydon, Ky., is moulding concrete blocks on his farm and says he is going to build a family monument 300 feet high, covering the family graveyard 48 feet square.

Herald to Build.

The Louisville Herald will erect a new office building on Walnut street, east of Third.

Rockford, Ala.—Mrs. M. C. Paschal, of this place, says: "I was taken with nervous prostration, and had headache, backache, pains in my right side, and smothering spells. I called in physicians to treat my case, but without relief. Finally, I tried Cardui, and it gave perfect satisfaction. I recommend it to every sick woman." Are you weak, tired, worn-out? Do you suffer from any of the pains peculiar to weak women? Cardui has a record of over fifty years in relieving such troubles, and will certainly benefit you. It prevents those frequent headaches, and keeps you up, out of bed, feeling fresh and happy. Try Cardui.

NAMING OF TRIPLETS

Washington, April 26.—President Taft received a request from George and Lydia Duncan, of Corydon, Ky., to name two of three children born to the Duncans on March 8.

Mr. Duncan in a letter counter-signed and attested by Mrs. Duncan, "extended the honor" of naming one of the triplets, a boy, to Mr. Taft, and suggests that Mrs. Taft name another, a girl.

The President has not indicated whether he will accept the honor.

AMUSEMENTS

Harry Bulger's starring vehicle, "The Flirting Princess," which comes to Holland's Opera House, Friday night, May 5, has a wealth of music, comedy, telling comic situations and funny lines, as well as cast of stars and what Manager Mort Singer regards as the prettiest and most talented chorus that any production ever possessed. The is a score of feature numbers of one sort and another. Among them are the original Apache dance, the engaging dance of the famous Apache of Paris; and the famous Vampire dance, founded on the theme of the Burne-Jones painting and Kipling's poem.

SMALL STATES OF EUROPE

Something About the Tiny Republics of Andorra and San Marino and Principality of Liechtenstein.

It is usually supposed that Monaco is the smallest, independent state in Europe, but as a matter of fact there are three states that are still smaller. It is also a matter of common belief that France, Switzerland and Portugal are the only republics in Europe, but there are two others, the republics of Andorra and San Marino. These two republics and the principality of Liechtenstein are all of them smaller than Monaco and they all claim to be autonomous and independent. Liechtenstein is crowded away between Austria and Switzerland, and it used to have a tiny army of its own, but this was abolished for fear some one might want to fight with it. Austria keeps a benevolent eye upon Liechtenstein, while France performs a similar paternal function toward Andorra, which is in the eastern Pyrenees, but San Marino looks after her own territory, 33 square miles in extent, without foreign aid. The people of San Marino are as proud of their glorious republic and of its enlightened institutions as republicans anywhere else. San Marino has an army of 1,000 men and these one thousand men have been found amply sufficient to keep at bay the predatory hordes of military Europe.

GERMANS OUTDO CHINESE

Cleverly Imitate Embossed Jewelry of Orientals and Even Make a Wonderful Bogus Jade.

The power of German imitation is strikingly exemplified in a recent creation of jewelry embossed with Chinese characters signifying "longevity" and "good luck," heretofore exclusively manufactured by the leading Chinese firms of Canton and Hongkong, consisting of cuff links, watch fobs, cravat pins, brooches and other articles.

The German creation is of superior workmanship, although the grade of gold is greatly inferior, the German standard being but 14 carats, while that of the Chinese runs from 18 to 24 carats.

The German manufacturers have outdone themselves in the creation of stone in actual representation of the jade stone of China. I am informed by a jeweler that the German article so closely represents the genuine Chinese jade that dealers themselves can be deceived. The leading Chinese houses are about to substitute these imitation stones in their mountings and it behoves Oriental travelers to remember this when purchasing jade ornaments.—Consular and Trade Reports.

CURB ON STUDENTS.

Chinese students in America have been told by the Kiong-ki-tch'ou, the imperial council that stands next to the person of the infant emperor and governs the empire, that they need not send any more telegrams from New York and elsewhere in the United States advising that body how to run the government in Peking. It has also been announced by that august cabinet in an official proclamation for distribution through the middle kingdom that a student's only task is to study what the western civilization has to teach. Maybe when he graduates and comes back to China the imperial government will ask his advice upon affairs of state.

RELIGIOUS HOUSES OF BELGIUM.

The recent census of Belgium shows that mortmain is not a dead letter there. Since the last return the number of monks has increased by three per cent, while the congregations of women show an augmentation of 18 per cent. At the present time there are 1983 monks of different orders in the kingdom and 16,870 nuns. Of recent years the property of the religious houses has increased enormously, in consequence of the accession of numbers of young ladies, daughters of rich parents. It may be added that the population is 6,824,372, of which two-thirds are Roman Catholics.

UNSCRUPULOUS INDEED.

KITTY MEWS

Two opinions that show the spirit of the neighborly feeling of our colleagues:

Base Ball Doings.

Hoptown played Terre Haute again Tuesday and the Hoppers gave the Miner's a scare. Terre Haute nosed out a victory in the ninth by a score of 9 to 8. The Star says: It looked mighty dubious towards the last and the bugs were fearful lest the Hopkinsville Kitty League team, class D club, would show up the Terre Haute Central League pennant contenders on the day before the opening. The Moonshiners were eager to do just that and they tried to win with all the spirit and enthusiasm of youngsters breaking in. But class told and Wheeler's team won out. The Nightriders had their batting eyes and aided by some rank errors of the Coal Miners, the class D, 'rookies,' almost won the game.—Vincennes Sun.

We do not see by press dispatches that the wonderful Hopkinsville team is creating much excitement during its barnstorming trip in Illinois.—Clarksville Leaf Chronicle.

Poor Little Town.

The soliciting committee of the Clarksville Baseball Club report subscriptions of about four hundred dollars received yesterday. Only five hundred more necessary.—Leaf Chronicle.

Hopkinsville beat Clarksville on attendance at games last season but we must not permit that to occur this season, says the Leaf-Chronicle.

You could have said that Hopkinsville did the same to all the other cities in the League last season, but we are glad that you got out from your state of hypnotism long enough to admit that we beat you in attendance, now wake up again and see if we didn't beat the life out of your team in games won.

Lyman Johnson, the pitcher purchased from Terre Haute arrived yesterday, two days ahead of the team. He lead the League with Vincennes, last season winning 20 games and losing 10. He is a right-hander and a husky young fellow who is sure to become a favorite with the fans.

The directors of the K. I. T. will meet at Cairo Sunday to adopt the new schedule which has been submitted. This is the most important of all considerations to the club. The Moguls will have a representative on hand to see that they get a fair distribution of dates.

The population of the cities in the Kitty is as follows:

Paducah	22,760
Vincennes	14,895
Cairo	14,458
Hopkinsville	9,419
Clarksville	8,548
Harrisburg	5,309
Fulton	2,575
McLeansboro	1,793
	79,762

Hopkinsville	5
Jasonville	4

This was the score of the game played at Jasonville. Batteries—Hopkinsville, Yon and Huhn; Jasonville, Lyons and Littlejohn.

Lyman Johnson, who led the Kitty last season, has been bought by Mgr. Nairn from Terre Haute and will dish out pellets from the center of the Hopkinsville group this season.

GOEBEL AWARD CASE

Passed Upon by Louisville Circuit Court.

Frankfort, Ky., April 28.—Detectives who brought suit against the Goebel reward fund commission for the capture and conviction of Henry E. Youtsey and Jim Howard, charged with taking part in the assassination of Gov. Goebel in January, 1900, were awarded $5,500 in the state circuit court here. The detectives are T. R. Griffin, of Somerset, Ky., and William Harding and "Dee" Armstrong, of Louisville. Their petition requested an award of $10,000.

RESOLUTIONS

Of Respect On the Death of Brother Chas. L. Daniel.

(By Evergreen Lodge No. 38, Knights of Pythias.)

Hopkinsville, Ky., April 27, 1911.

Whereas, the Death Angel has again visited our lodge and called from life to an untimely death our beloved brother, Charles L. Daniel, who departed this life April 21st, 1911, and while the solemn notes of warning has again reminded us of this frail and transitory life and of the certainty of death, may it better prepare us to fit ourselves as living stones for that spiritual building made with hands eternal in the heavens. Therefore be it resolved:

First. That he was faithful to his convictions of right and was obedient to the demands of honor and justice in every-day life, and remembering his many virtues, we are indeed grieved at the loss of our beloved brother, and drop the tear of affectionate sympathy.

Second. That this community has lost one of its best and most upright citizens, known and honored for charitable acts and integrity, whose departure left the footprints of a model life on the sands of time.

Third. That the Christian church, of which he was a member, has lost one of its best members, who was always ready to speak a word for his Maker, and a word of cheer for the little folks and comfort for the lonely ones.

One by one the links are broken All along the shores of time, One by one the silent boatman Bears the gentle spirits home.

Fourth. That we extend to the bereaved family our sympathy. But realizing the utter failure in our intentions to bring comfort, we commend them to the Heavenly Father, who says: "I will never leave or forsake thee," who promised to be a father to the orphan and a husband to the widow.

Fifth. That we keep his memory fresh in our minds by spreading a copy of these resolutions on a page of our minute book; a copy be given to the bereaved family, and a copy be furnished the Kentucky Pythian, Hopkinsville Kentuckian and Kentucky New Era for publication.

GAME BOY

Fights 15 to 1 Odds in Battle To the Death.

Mexico City, April 27.—Refusing to surrender or to leave the train on which he and his command of thirty soldiers were being brought to the capital, a second lieutenant, little more than a boy, yesterday engaged in a battle with a force of 400 rebels at Cajones, Guerrero. At the conclusion of the brief encounter twenty-eight of the soldiers were dead and the lieutenant and the remaining two of his men were prisoners. One of the arms of the lieutenant had been shot away.

At no time during the engagement did the rebels betray signs of cowardice. With the blood of their companions running from the doors of the little second-class coach, the men coolly fired into the ranks of their assailants until but two remained with their wounded lieutenant.

One passenger, Luis Bustamente, a young civil engineer who was on his way to the capital to be married to Miss Elena Tamborrel, was killed in another coach while kneeling beside a girl passenger.

New Pastor.

Rev. S. E. Tull, of Pine Bluff, Ark., has been called as pastor of the First Baptist church of Paducah. He is young and eloquent and will take charge July 1.

DECLINED WITH THANKS

Taft and Roosevelt Refuse to Name Triplets.

Henderson, Ky., April 28.—"Declined with thanks" is the substance of letters received by Mr. and M

George W. Duncan, of Corydon, from former President Theodore Roosevelt, President Taft, M. Russell Sage and Miss Helen Gould, all of whom had been invited to name triplets born to the Duncan March 8 last.

"Well, well," said the mother holding the letters from the noted in her lap. "I thought they forgotten our request. I'm George and I didn't wait to tell the babies now." To a neighbor Mrs. Duncan confided that she her husband had grown tired of apparent delay and had named children themselves. They will be called Ralph, Ruth and Ruby.

KILLED THE KEEPE

Murderer of Lockup Kee In Jail in This City.

Lockup Keeper Ed O'Bannon at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon twenty-five hours after he knocked unconscious from a blow shovel in the hands of John Wilby, prisoner crazed for his freedom.

Feeling against Wilby is so that County Judge Bradley sent prisoner to jail here for safe keeping. O'Bannon's death culminates is considered by many as the outrage that has been perpetuated in Madisonville for years and a charge of murder against assailant.
